

The Band Alamo was formed in the summer of 1992 by original band members Eddie Moore and Greg Long. The band performed at fairs, festivals, and on the infamous "cowboy circuit" opening for nationally signed country acts such as Confederate Railroad, Marty Stuart, David Allan Coe, Neil McCoy, Clay Walker, David Ball, John Conley, and David Lee Murphy, just to name a few.

In 1999, Alamo disbursed to build new houses, raise families, and take some much needed rest from a grueling traveling schedule. Although the members of Alamo were no longer playing live shows, their love for performing never died. in the summer of 2004 the "itch" to play in front of live crowds became unbearable, hence the Alamo rides again!

Their powerful blend of country meets rock is sure to be a huge hit at your next event. On and off stage the level of professionalism and quality of entertainment Alamo brings to your event is second to none

Eddie Moore - Lead Vocals

Eddie started singing at an early age, like most outstanding country singers with soul in their voice he was influenced by gospel music. His Mom and Grandpa were in a gospel quartet that played local churches and radio performances. Other musical influences were Elvis, Marty Robbins, Waylon, George Strait.

By the age of 15 Eddie had made his first public appearance. Eddie is a versatile well rounded singer and can perform anything from 50's country standards to today's country hits he has a texture to his voice that makes you feel what he is singing.

In the early 90's Eddie along with Greg Long formed the Alamo Band.

Eddie lives in Oakway, S.C. with his wife Greta and their two sons Coley and Cayle and his daughter Kelley Rae.

---

---

Greg Long - Lead Guitar - Vocals

Greg started playing guitar at the age of six. His grandmother, Lura Ward, took the time to show him a few simple cords.

He says he was very fortunate to be from a very musical family.

By the age of fourteen was playing lead guitar in the Baby Blue Band, since then he has been in several local bands.

In the early 90's Greg along with Eddie Moore founded the Alamo Band.

His guitar style is greatly influenced by Rick Long, Brent Mason, Danny Gatton, David Gilmore and Dwayne Allman.

Greg lives in Walhalla South Carolina with his wife Kay. They have four daughters, Jessica, Kelli, and the twins Ashley and Bailey, and a granddaughter Kaitlyn.

---

---

Boyd Burdette - Fiddle, Guitar and Vocals

Boyd started playing the fiddle at the ripe old age of 7 in his Dads Bluegrass Band. His Dad has influenced him musically and continues doing so to this day. His Dad taught him his first chords on the guitar and soon Boyd was driving his parents crazy learning the guitar and fiddle. In the early 80's, Boyd and his Dad were band mates in Skyline Bluegrass Express a band based out of Greenville S.C. They were invited to play the Grand Ole Opry on 3 different occasions as well as fanfare in Nashville, by the Bluegrass legend Mr. Bill Monroe. In the early 90's, Boyd joined the Alamo Band and has been a great asset to the band. Boyd is married with 3 children, two daughters 19 and 16, and a son 3.

---

---

---

---

Craig Lewis - Drums, Drums, Drums.

Craig's musical influences were first and foremost his father, Larry Lewis. Larry would play the guitar and Craig spent many an evening at his feet while he would play, either at his home or on every Saturday night at the "Grand Ole Chicken House", where all the local musicians would meet and have their weekly jam sessions. His other influences were Merle Haggard and Lynard Skynard.

Craig was born and raised in the small northeast Georgia town of Hartwell where he still resides with his wife Daysa.. They have two daughters, Elizabeth Lewis Teasley and Katherine Lewis.

He has a long and varied playing experience as he began playing at the tender age of ten with his first live stage performance at the age of thirteen. Craig began playing in a professional capacity at age sixteen and worked with such artists as Sylvia, John Anderson and Box Car Willie. He has performed opening acts for the artists Charlie Daniels, Alabama, Gene Watson, Ronnie Milsap, Oak Ridge Boys, Johnny Cash, Loretta Lynn, Conway Twitty, and Hank Williams, Jr. Craig has been with the Alamo Band since early 2004.

---

---

Josh Taylor - Keyboards and Vocals

Josh was born on June 13, 1978 in Anderson, S.C. and raised in Royston, Georgia. Music was always a part of Josh's life. He began playing the piano at the early age of four, which progressed more and more as he grew older. The Oak Ridge Boys, Conway Twitty, Floyd Cramer, and Jerry Lee Lewis were some of his favorite musical influences growing up.

Josh started performing at local events in early high school, such as corporate parties and school activities and later performed at the 1994 FFA Convention which exposed him to his first large audience. He joined his first band at the age of seventeen and has played with two successful local bands through 2004.

Josh is single and currently resides in Royston where he farms commercial poultry. He joined Alamo Band in early 2005 and is now ready to fulfill God's will and take his music career to new heights.

---

---

Brian Crowe - Bass Guitar and Vocals

Brian was born in Royston, Georgia November 12, 1968 into a very talented musical family. Both his father and his grandfather were musicians and his biggest influences. Other influences were Elvis Presley, George Jones and Conway Twitty.

Brian joined his first band at the age of seventeen playing in local clubs and has played in five successful local bands over the past twenty years. During this time, he had the opportunity to work beside several well known artist such as Narvel Felts, David Wills, and Wayne Kemp.

Brian also had the opportunity to perform opening acts for other artist such as Vince Gill, Randy Travis, Conway Twitty, Neal McCoy and Ronnie McDowell. Brian currently resides in Comer, Georgia with his wife Gwen. He joined the Alamo Band in February 2006.

---

---

Mike Bagwell, Mark Van Allen, or Steve Walker- Steel Guitar